GREATEST BATTLE IN WORLD'S HISTORY PROCEEDING

The Greatest Conflict in All History is Now In Progress, with Battle Lines Extending Two Hundred Miles Long. So Appalling is the Situation that Never in the History of the World Has There Been Such Immense Hosts Opposed to Each Other With Every Death-Dealing Device Modern Ingenuity Can Devise

TWO IMMENSE ARMIES OF A MILLION MEN EACH ARE NOW FACE TO FACE

BRUSSELS, Aug. 17th.—With a left flank of the German army in position for a titanic engagement with the allies, fighting went on to-day between the advance guard of the Germans and the allied troops massed around Dinant and south of that point.

Despatches from the scene of action gave the impression that the centre of the German army, with 400,000 men, is pushing forward toward the French frontier behind the skirmish front which has been in action since dawn Saturday.

Both sides are using infantry, cavalry and artillery; both have been equally inconvenienced by heavy rains, which turned roads and fields into swamps, preventing the quick movements of heavy batteries. Earthworks are being thrown up by the main body of the German centre, just as was done by the right wing along the line extending from a point south of Antwerp to the district east of Brussels.

The allies are likewise strengthening their position along the French frontier. It is apparent to military authorities that the German forces which were thrown back from Dinant on Saturday constituted a flying squadron which had been sent forward in advance of a main body to give skirmish to the enemy.

It is pointed out as a significant fact that the Germans, instead of retreating eastward, took a southerly course along the Meuse valley toward the French border at Givet.

This indicates that the German centre made good progress from its base at Aix la Chappelle.

Must Fight for Canada and Liberty

Should Germany Win, We Would Be Slaves, Says Col. Sam Hughes in Characteristic Speech

MONTREAL, Aug. 14.—Col. Sam Hughes, minister of militia, made one of his characteristic speeches to-night on Champ de Mars after he had reviewed 1,000 volunteers of the Montreal garrison. The parade of the troops was one of the most inspiring turnouts ever witnessed in this city, and many thousands of people cheered as the men passed, and manifested such interest in them as could be expected only during war times.

Col. Denison was the officer in command. The patriotism was not dampened by a heavy thunder storm which came just as the soldiers were formed upon Champ de Mars, though the soldiers and spectators were drenched.

POSSIBILITIES OF OUTCOME

"If Germany succeeds in this war," said Col. Hughes, in addressing his troops, "Belgium and Holland, and probably Denmark, will be annexed; Britain will become a second rate power; France will be wiped off the map, and we shall, in all probability, become subjects of that nation which denies the people that measure of liberty which they should enjoy. But it is not the intention of Canadians that we should become slaves. We all know that our liberties are at stake and, to a man, we Canadians are ready to do our duty."

Volunteers Only.

"I called for volunteers—volunteers mark you. Not a man will be accepted or leave Canada on this service but of his own free will, and if I know it, not a married man shall go but with the consent of his wife and family. And when the Canadians meet the enemy—as they are going to do—and vanquish them, as they are going to do, they are going to do it fighting as free men, as free subjects of his majesty."

Col. Hughes intimated that twenty more Canadian contingents would go to fight for the empire if they should be needed. Of course, he did not anticipate this.

LAST MINUTE DISPATCHES, TUESDAY EVENING, FROM CALGARY HERALD

Russian and French armies enter Germany. Allied forces moving in the attack in large numbers.

Eastern frontier of Germany swarms with Russians.

French entering from Alsace, and British thought to be drawn up barring the German advance through Belgium.

Sir John French has left for the front.

Reports from Brussels say German attack in Belgium is weakening.

Lieses on Russian frontier described as very heavy but Russian advance steadily maintained.

London war office press bureau reports that no casualties have as yet occurred to the British Army which consists of 72 Infantry battalions, 18 Cavalry regiments, 144 Horse and 323 field artillery.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(10.50 a.m.)—The Serbian legation has received the following telegram from the Serbian premier, N. P. Pashitch:

"The Austrians were completely routed in the mountains near Sabac and 15,000 were annihilated. Fourteen guns were captured. The Austrians are fleeing in great disorder to re-cross the rivers, Save and Drina, hotly pursued by our troops."

GERMANY HAS ENOUGH FOOD ON HAND FOR YEAR.

London, August 11.—That Germany has enough food on hand to last one year, even though all communication with the outside world is cut off, was admitted here today. It was announced that report to that effect had been made to the Kaiser by a governmental commission appointed for that purpose. The Kaiser has contributed from his personal fortune $200,000, of which one half goes to the Red Cross and the remainder for the relief of families of soldiers killed in action.

QUEBEC AUSTRIANS ATTACK SENTINELS

Quebec, August 13.—A score of Italians and Austrian workmen were arrested around the Levis dry dock while they were attacking the sentinels in charge of the dynamite store. The mob fired at the soldiers, who called to the camp for help, and a detachment came to their rescue in time to capture the foreigners. The attacking party was composed of former employees of the government plant, and it is thought that their aim was to blow up the dry-dock.

JAPAN SENDS SQUADRONS TO PROTECT BRITISH SHIPS.

Tokio, August 8.—The Japanese fleet of five cruisers and three battleships sailed southward today under sealed orders.

Two other cruisers and five battleships sailed tonight. The squadron which left today apparently was bound for the sea of Japan, where German warships are reported to have been very active in seizing British merchantmen during last 2 days. If these transports are loaded by the German warships the Japanese warships will assist in protecting them.

HOLLAND DEMANDS GERMAN TROOPS BE WITHDRAWN.

Brussels, Aug. 12.—Holland is about to make a peremptory demand on Germany to withdraw her troops from the Dutch frontier. Already an explanation for the massing of the German army on her boundaries has been demanded.

The foreign office here tonight announced that its advice from the Hague were that the Dutch government is preparing to tell the Kaiser that the failure of the Germanies withdrawal from the frontier will be considered a casus belli.

It is stated that while Queen Wilhelmina has refrained from taking any steps against Germany, she now realizes that the anti-German feeling is spreading rapidly throughout Holland and that if she temporizes longer she will be in danger of losing her popularity. Because of this the officials here look for an immediate note to Germany that can hardly be ignored by the Kaiser.

Sad Drowning Accident Near Innisfail

A triple drowning accident took place Sunday morning at Innisfail, when Donald Baker, clerk of the executive council here, his brother Allen, who is a farmer near Innisfail, and his niece, Percy Clydesdale, of Calgary, aged 10 years, lost their lives.

The accident took place in the Little Red Deer river, 10 miles west of Innisfail. The little girl was bathing and got beyond her depth. Allen went to her rescue and also went under. Donald, who endeavored to save them, met the same fate. The bodies were recovered soon after.

Premier Sifton, in whose department Donald Baker worked, paid a warm tribute Sunday evening to the young man, whom he said was one of the government's most faithful employees.

Correspondence

Red Deer, August 15th, 1914.

J. A. Carswell, Esq., Editor "The News."

Dear Sir,—Through the medium of your valuable paper, we would like to thank all those who in any way helped to make the Retail Merchants Association picnic to Sylvan Lake, on Wednesday, August 13th, such a grand success, most particularly Mr. W. G. Donlevy, for the great help in securing such good railway accommodation, and both newspapers for their advertising. We sincerely hope that on some future occasion the retail merchants and their clerks will have another leaving examination for public school leaving examination for 1915. Issued of marriage licenses.

I am, yours truly,

HAROLD J. SNELL, Secretary Retail Merchants.

Call at John McVicar's bookstore and see Regulations of Department for public school leaving examination for 1915. Issued of marriage licenses.

"A" Squadron 35th C.A.H. Ready For Active Service

"A" Squadron of the Central Alberta Hussars, under the command of Major J. C. Moore, volunteered to a man for active service at the front, and while at the time of writing it is not certain when their services will be required, it is worthy of note that the regiment has been put on a war footing.

The Hussars have been a very busy place during the past week and less than 61 men, 8 officers and 50 troopers, have succeeded in passing every test put them and more men are presenting themselves every day. Major Sandeman, 10 troopers of "B" Squadron, Pine Lake, are included in the above. To make sure of their services being accepted, the regiment have volunteered to go as infantry with the first overseas contingent that leaves the country. They are anxiously awaiting a telegram to depart, and there is a rumor to the effect that they would be leaving tonight, but nothing is yet known at headquarters. "Any man wishing to enlist can do so right up to the last moment. It is probable that the whole militia service of the province will shortly go into camp for training."

Red Deer Market

Another good market, for producer and consumer alike, was held last week. F. Anquetil took the place of Mr. Mann, he being busy with the work of the Fair. Mr. Beant had some splendid cauliflower on sale, which were speedily bought up. The following prices ruled:

Eggs—50 dozen.
Butter—25c lb.
Chicken—25c lb.
Cauliflower—10c to 20c each.
Celery—2c for 25c.
Cabbage—5c.
Potatoes—2c lb.
Spring Lamb—20c.
Pigs—3c lbs. for 25c.

ALBERTA'S GIFT ACCEPTED.

Alberta's offer of 500,000 bushels of oats for fodder for British troops operating against the Dual alliance has been received with every expression of gratitude by the British government.

The following cable was received yesterday by Premier Sifton from John A. Reid, agent-general for Alberta in London: "Announcement of Alberta's gift enthusiastically welcomed all quarters."

MARRIED.

At the Methodist Parsonage, Aug. 14th, by Rev. Dr. Wilson, Albert and Mary Olsen, both of Eckville.

Japan Will Join Hands With Britain

ISSUES ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY

TOKIO, Aug. 17.—Japan Saturday night sent an ultimatum to Germany, demanding that she withdraw her warships and evacuate Kiau-Chau. Unless Germany unconditionally accepts by August 23, Japan will take action.

The text of the ultimatum has created a profound impression, although it had been predicted that Japan was making ready to participate in the war.

The ultimatum is, in part:

"First—To withdraw immediately from Japanese and Chinese waters German men-of-war and armed vessels of all kinds, and to disarm at once these which cannot be withdrawn."

"Second—To deliver on a date not later than Sept. 15, to the imperial Japanese authorities, without condition or compensation, the entire leased territory of Kiau-Chau with a view to the eventual restoration of the same to China."

This, no doubt, means that Japan will be in the war before our next issue.

EXPERTS SAY WAR WILL CONTINUE THREE YEARS; OTHERS SAY SIX MONTHS

Kitchener Says Eighteen Months

Synopsis of Canadian North-West Land Regulations.

The sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the District. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (but not Sub-Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may preempt a quarter-section along-side his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Six months residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions.

A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $300.

The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions.

THREE YEARS' WAR.

London, Aug. 12.—The general condition position today strikingly supports the view repeatedly expressed in these cables of excessive optimism danger.

Each day's reports diminish the Liege slaughter of Germans. The latest Brussels reports place the German casualties there at five thousand, but this is probably an underestimate. German forces are pouring hourly increasing scores of thousands towards Brussels and surrounding and isolating both Liege and Namur, aiming a bold stroke in the northwest. Their purpose is evidently to overwhelm the country by sheer force of numbers before the armies hurrying to the Belgians' relief can arrive.

AWAIT BRITISH.

The greatest importance is placed by the French on the assistance of the British expeditionary force, they maintaining that the armies are so easily balanced that two or three army corps added to one side or the other may produce a vital effect.

Refugees from Germany give striking details of the great distress in Berlin owing to food shortages. Paper money is unusable and there have been food riots.

Everything here continues well. The difficulty is to handle the masses of volunteers, 4,700 being enrolled within 12 hours yesterday.

Mobilization of territorials passed off without a hitch. Every single unit is now believed to be up to establish strength. The territorials are largely volunteering for foreign service.

Amsterdam news, like Belgian newspaper marvels, recounts to the effect that the German reserve Germany evidently established a news manufactory at Amsterdam to circulate stories favoring their own side.

The submarine was then forced to surface, and the British gunners, showing above the surface of the water, the attitude of the British in the face of this attack was cool and the enemy was utterly misled when suddenly the cruiser Birmingham, steaming at full speed, fired the first shot. This shot was carefully aimed, not at the submerged

LOCOMOTIVE INDUSTRY IN UNITED STATES

Serious Depression in This Trade—The Wilson Tariff Blamed For Decline

The Baldwin Locomotive Works in Philadelphia is probably one of the best known industries in the world. Every one will be interested to know, therefore, that the present depression, coupled with the reductions announced in the Wilson Tariff in the United States, has caused a slowing down in these vast works.

Root of the Stagnation
Mr. Samuel D. Vaulanin, Vice-President of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, in an address delivered before the Annual Convention of the Master Builders' Association and the Boiler Makers' Supply Men's Association, May 28th, said that the new and greatly reduced tariff lay at the root of the present stagnation of business, and if this be carried to its limits, manufacturers of the United States will have no alternative but to cut employees' wages and to sink them to the low European levels.

Mr. Vaulanin, who has made a special study of labor conditions abroad, said the average weekly wage of boiler makers in France is $6.20, while in the Baldwin Works, the weekly average is $15.50. The French product, he said, is sold at the same price as the American, he said. Six months ago, Mr. Vaulanin said, the Baldwin works had 18,500 men on its payroll. At present, 12,000 of these are looking for jobs.

Working Staff Reduced
A two-fold reduction in the working staff of a huge plant such as this is well calculated to make all thoughtful men reflect on the wisdom of alterations in a trade policy, under which for nearly fifty years an unparalleled record for extension in industrial as well as the other forms of activity has been manifest. Already there are many in the United States who predict a reaction from the low tariff policy of the Wilson regime. It is perhaps unfortunate that the President's standpoint that the reduction in the tariff was connected with the trade depression, which is almost world-wide in its scope, but the fact remains that imports of manufactured goods into United States have greatly increased, not only in the trade depression, while manufacturing has declined in corresponding or higher rate.

Among the few woollen industries in Canada that have been able to bear up under the competition from Great Britain under the British preference is the Paton Manufacturing Company of Sherbrooke, Que., president and general manager, Mr. John Turnbull, is one of the best posted men on the woollen industry on this continent.

In a recent interview in the "Journal of Commerce," Montreal, Mr. Turnbull is quoted as follows: "The American duties on woollen goods are a high protective tariff. I think that in the present state of Canada's industrial and commercial development, however, that a moderate tariff is not only desirable but essential for the country's prosperity. The woollen manufacturers of Canada are not extremists. They do not dream of pushing up the tariff on woollen goods to the height it reached in the United States as set forth in Schedule K of the Payne Tariff Act."

"I have always thought the American high protective tariff indefensible from an economic, not to say a moral, standpoint. They have protective duties reaching the almost incredible figures of 150, and even 200 per cent. It was a heavy, even intolerable, burden on the consumer; and a confession of incapacity on the part of the American producer that was shameful to every true American citizen."

"President Wilson is to be congratulated that by the Underwood Tariff Act the duties on woollen goods were reduced to 35 per cent. ad valorem—quite sufficient, in my judgment, to permit the American manufacturer to compete with foreign producers not only in the United States but in the neutral markets of the world."

Favors 35 Per Cent. For Canada
"As far as Canada is concerned we have never attempted to make the tariff a cloak for incompetency. We have fitted out our mills with the finest and most modern machinery that money can buy; we have manned them with the most skilled labor that could be secured; we have secured Europe for the most export and artistic designers. We are not making any demand for a further increase in the tariff, although, personally, I think that 35 per cent. would be a great help to the industry at the present critical juncture, when high wages and high cost of materials have greatly increased the expenses of production."

Does Not Mean High Prices
"Do you think, Mr. Turnbull, that they present a duty of 30 per cent. ad valorem means that prices are as a result higher to the consumer?"

"Emphatically, I do not. The competition offered by Canadian manufacturers materially adds to market prices at a reasonable level. If our industries were closed out by the Canadian people would not have to wait long to see prices advance all along the line. We cannot do with less than 30 per cent.; reduce that amount of protection and you would mean high prices in the end for the Canadian consumer. Hence, I maintain that a fair and reasonable amount of protection need not necessarily raise prices."

AID TO WOOL GROWERS

How the Dominion Department of Agriculture is Helping Wool Industry

Hitherto, Canadian wool has graded very low in comparison with wool from other countries through careless methods of shearing, shipping and sorting. The poor quality of Canadian wool has resulted in low prices to Canadian wool growers, and the Canadian wool grower has been forced to purchase some portion of his wool supplies abroad because he was unable to get the proper quality in Canada.

"According to the 'Canadian Textile Journal' expert graders are being supplied by the branch to mutual or ganizations of sheep-raising of ten or more members. Graders will classify and pack wool only and endeavor to see that it reaches dealers in the condition they graded it, but in no way will they act as selling agents for the wool. This should provide a means of stimulating breeders to take greater interest in the preparation of a clean product, for it is definitely understood that wool graded under the auspices of the branch will be severely, and impartially, treated."

"In the event of a shortage of this wool it is stated that freedom will be given to the wool grower to pack and ship his wool in bales, containing clean wool or filled with chaff and straw will be discarded to the rejection class and the sacks plainly labeled as such. Western range wool will be separated from quality into three grades: fine medium and coarse, and into combing and clothing lengths. Five grades will be made of the Eastern wool and wool of a medium character raised on the small farms in the West. Washed and unwashed will be carefully designed. Associations are now being formed for this purpose and much interest is already being evinced amongst farmers throughout the entire Dominion. A uniformly graded wool will act equally as a boon to growers, dealers and manufacturers and may serve as the beginning of a new era in the production of the real character of Canadian wools."

"Canadian manufacturers should endorse and encourage these efforts because any good accomplished will work to their benefit. They are able to give valuable assistance to the men who are doing the work in the way of information as to the best grades of wool for the industry here and by pointing out the defects and suggesting remedies."

At present the Canadian woollen industry is in a depressed condition owing to the general trade depression, and also to the high imports of British wool which are enabled to come into Canada freely under the low duties of the British preference. When business is depressed all over the world the British manufacturer finds Canada one of the nearest markets in which to dump his surplus product, and the result is that while there is less trade than there used to be, the Canadian and British woollen manufacturers are the Canadian manufacturer loses a great proportion of the usual amount of wool going through the low prices which the British manufacturer is able to quote by reason of his low labor and factory costs.

In addition to the wise measures which the government is taking for the promotion of the sheep industry, it seems reasonable that some change will have to be made whereby the Canadian woollen manufacturer will be assured of a greater percentage of the Canadian market for his product than he has at present. If such a policy was adopted the Canadian manufacturer would purchase still larger quantities of Canadian wools, and what helps him the wool grower.

POPULAR FILM ACTOR

Eddie Lyons is a household word in the homes of picture show patrons. He's a happy young chap who can turn his personality into all sorts of roles on the screen.

Lyons is usually cast for comedy, probably because he has a perfectly serious-looking face. Anyway he is very clever at comedy roles. He is often seen with Lee Moran and Victor Fordy, Stella Adams and the rest of the Nestor comedy company.

KING'S FAVORED TENANTS

Some Queer Rents Collected by King George

Some of the rents which are King George's due from certain of his loyal subjects are "more honored in the breach than in the observance." It would certainly surprise King George and Queen Mary if the Lord of the Manor of Addington, in Surrey should suddenly appear and plunk down the Royal breakfast table the bowl of porridge which constitutes his yearly rent in acknowledgment of his Sovereign's overlordship.

Whether the present owner of the Foulis Estates in Scotland regularly pays his rent we cannot say, or whether the King, as is likely, shuts his eyes to the omission of the bucketful of snow which is his rightful due. As the estates are near Ben Nevis, there would certainly be no difficulty in obtaining a trailload of snow once a year, and probably even a buck-fuddle in summer; but, as the King has little use for snow, probably the rent is never paid.

Quite a different and much more desirable rent is the one which has been charged to the tenant of Creden, in Buckinghamshire, from time immemorial. The rent consists of a garland of roses every June, and, needless to say, the garland is duly forwarded, and is a thing of beauty, as it ought to be.

In September every year two fagots are piled at the Law Courts by the City Remembrancer as rent for lands held by the City Corporation from His Majesty the King. This official not only has to deliver the two fagots, but has to see that they are properly received and accept a duly signed and witnessed receipt for them, which is filed in the City's archives. The authorities of the Isle of Portland make a queer sort of collection every November on behalf of His Majesty. It is called the "King's Halfpenny"; but, as a matter of fact, every cottager on the island pays a farthing, every cottage with a garden a halfpenny, and every man with an acre of land or more three pence. This is called "quit rent."

When the King lately went across the Channel to pay his State visit to Paris, he ought to have been attended across the bridge by the present representative of Solomon Attfield, to whom King John gave his lands on condition that, whenever he or any of his successors crossed the Channel, the said Solomon or his heirs should be in attendance to hold up the King's head when he was sick. His title was the Royal Head-bearer. However, as for the last monarch to call for this service was Edward I., and, especially as his present Majesty is a sailor, it is very unlikely that the existing Solomon was called upon to perform his functions. Nevertheless, there is no doubt that if the King desired he could call upon the tenants of the Attfield estates to do the service by which they hold the tenure of their land.

If the King should pay a visit to Aylesbury—where the ducks come from—the inhabitants are supposed to supply him with three eels if it is winter, and with two fat geese, if it is summer. If the King should visit Chichester, by ancient usage he ought immediately to demand a string for his crossbow; and if the King should be engaged in war and riding at the head of his troops, it would be incumbent upon the successors to the Corbet Estates, in Shropshire to provide him with a fift of bacon every day.

Germans Need Decisive Win Asserts Times

London, August 13.—The following are the forecasts of military correspondents as to the great imminent battle:

The Times says: "German strategists are confronted with the one thing which Germans like least, namely, a parallel battle. This with approximately equal forces usually has indecisive results. Germany at this moment is in deadly need of a decisive battle. Her last chance of securing it rests with her right flank, which may aim at Brussels and try to 'overthrow' the Belgian army which blocks the way. The right flank is probably entrenched up to the eyes. This is the dangerous flank for us."

The Chronicle says: "There is no reason to suppose the German plans can be carried through with success. The French army is equal in number, superior in plan and superior also in artillery. It may probably be the most sanguinary conflict of all time."

The Telegraph says: "The world is entirely without experience in such warfare as this and can only watch and wait."

The Mail says: "It will take all France's strength to resist the on-set. We believe the allied armies can suffer defeat."

HEAVY RECRUITING.

Recruiting has only been checked here by the difficulty of handling volunteers. There were seven thousand recruits yesterday. The British policy continues steady and aggressive all along the line. Following the declaration of war with Austria the Mediterranean fleet is tackling the Austrian fleet on the coast. While it is not permitted to forward details of the North Sea and continental operations everything is advancing with automatic precision. So far there has not been a hitch anywhere.

The government's bold move in making itself responsible for the Bank of England is meeting with approval. It is regarded in the city as an exceedingly bold and tremendously courageous bit of financial management. Nothing but supreme confidence in the national resources would justify Lloyd George in this step. A complete breakdown of foreign exchanges has prevented resistance coming forward from abroad and deterred banks from discounting bills and paralyzing business. The government's boldness will do much to restore credit and restart foreign trade. Much loss and suffering has been avoided.

WIFE IN NAME ONLY

Marriage for Money and Title Turns Out to Be a Real Love Affair.

By GEORGE MUNSON.

All London society was whispering and questioning, for Lord Rensley was on his way home to England after an absence of a year. He had shot down to India and spent a season in Alaska, and hunted grizzlies in the wilds of western Canada. And all the while Lady Rensley had kept house at the Abbey. Now he was expected home; he would arrive in two weeks. Actually he arrived a week earlier and unexpectedly.

They had been married nearly three years before. Lady Rensley had been Miss Edith Kane, of Cleveland, and her father was one of the twelve richest men in America. The marriage had been considered singularly fortunate, for the Rensley family dated back five hundred years—though not the title, and his lands were extensive, although unprofitable. Miss Kane's dowry would restore the old abbey and enable her husband and herself to assume their rightful place in the social hierarchy. And so Rensley had won the beauty of Cleveland.

This is what happened three hours later the marriage. He and his bride were face to face in their apartments at the Everley hotel. The bride drew off her engagement ring meditatively and handed it to him and said, without a trace of passion:

"I shall wear my marriage ring, but not for your title. And so she turned away and they said no more. That he had sincerely loved her she did not know, nor that she could he has you in his power? Leave him and come with me to Italy. You shall have my love all your days, and my fortune shall be at your disposal. You shall—"

That was the moment when Rensley returned a week earlier than had been expected. He had sent word, but he had arrived before his own letter. So he had strolled quietly in.

He saw the room brilliantly lighted, but when he entered the hall, none of the guests knew him. He knew some of them for the flashy, shabby chatterbox, but he was not in the quiet man, with the hair slightly gray over the temples—who was he? Nobody cared. They were dancing no longer, but whispering and gossiping in the drawing rooms, and loitering near the conservatory. Somebody had told them that Rensley and Lady Rensley were there.

Then Rensley entered the conservatory alone. And Lady Rensley, seeing him, drew back with a frightened catch of the breath, and Rensley, knowing him, rose to his feet and stood looking at him defiantly, with folded arms.

"Pardon me for interrupting," said Lord Rensley. "Baron Rensley? Yes? Pray what is it you so urgently desire of me? Rensley that you go down upon your knees to her?"

Since he did not answer Rensley turned to his wife.

"My dear, is it in your power, or is it your desire to grant this gentleman what he is asking?" he demanded.

"No," she flashed out in her bewilderment. "No!"

Rensley took Rensley by the arm. "My dear fellow, you shall have your five hundred pounds," he said in a loud voice which carried to those waiting outside. "But I wish you had asked me instead of my wife." He turned to the guests.

"Gentlemen, my carriages are at your disposal," he said. Then he led Lady Rensley through the ballroom to her private apartment. Under the windows the cowed guests were streaming out into the grounds.

Lady Rensley tapped her fingers up on the table.

"I want to tell you one thing before we part," she said. "I have never given you reason to be ashamed of me. I have kept my vow."

Lord Rensley took her hands in his. "But I have not kept mine," he said. "Edith, let my faith in you be the proof of my love. Will you give me a chance to show its reality?"

That broke her pride; she cried then, in his arms.

"I've been a fool," he said; but she laughed through her tears. When he put back the engagement ring upon her finger.

BALKED AT THE WOMAN JURY

Ship's Captain Denied Federal Regulations, but Dine Threat Brought Him to Time.

The prospect of facing a woman jury in municipal court was more of a fact in making Capt. Brown of the American steamer Leelanaw, comply with port regulations than was the threat of Federal prosecution when Captain Brown went to the ship to ask him to display port lights and rig a proper gangway. From his berth, whether he had retired early, Capt. Brown commanded the patrolman to a "warm climate."

Baksey replied that there was a federal fine of $200 for the offense; the captain grunted from his berth. Baksey threatened arrest; the captain snored.

"They have a woman jury in municipal court," suggested Baksey, "and you will have to face that." Instantly the captain raised his hand to his whiskers and the watchman came running.

"All hands on deck," commanded Capt. Brown, "and order the gangway changed and proper lights hung. I won't face a woman jury in any court, and me 60 years old."—Portland Oregonian.

Monuments to Mark Twain.

Mark Twain is to have two monuments in Missouri, one at his birthplace in Florida, the other in River View Park, in Hannibal, both erected by the state. He deserves them both, but is not the inscription proposed for the Florida memorial a little too despondent? "He cheered and comforted a tired world." But is it a tired world? The fashion nowadays is to praise literature in the terms of Santa Panza's blessing on him who invented sleep, but is as dubious a compliment as Pope's tribute to an industrious contemporary writer. "Sleepless himself, to give his reader sleep," is not only the exhausted who give good, from Mark Twain; he is one of the favorite authors of young people.

Hardly Likely.

Argentina Forests

The forests of Argentina are said to contain enormous reserves of quebracho, a tree of large size producing a very hard wood containing from 16 to 25 per cent. of tannin. Last year, Argentina exported 58,431 tons of tannin extract, besides 35,793 rail-ties made from this wood and 438,216 tons of the timber.

At a cost of only $50 the Dominion Forestry Branch recently erected a lookout tower fifty feet high, overlooking two hundred square miles of woodland. Similar towers are being built on all the Dominion forest reserves in the West in order that fires may be seen and extinguished before they have time to spread beyond control.

HONEY STATISTICS

Living Conditions Favorable For Busy Workers and Food Plentiful

For the purposes of reporting on the condition of bees in Ontario and the honey crop prospects, blanks are sent to a large number of beekeepers by the Department of Agriculture. One thousand replies are received, on an average, from which reports are summarized.

The total number of colonies reported according to last figures is about 41,318, being an average of 22 colonies, spring count, for each beekeeper reporting. The winter loss is about 7 1/2 per cent. What losses there are during the winter are due, principally to starvation, caused by lack of sufficient feed in the hives.

So far as the condition of bees is concerned, the prospects for a good honey crop this year are very good, but clover is only in a fair condition, having been very much injured in many localities by unfavorable weather conditions.

MRS. JEAN KANE FOULKE
Mrs. Jean Kane Foulke is Pennsylvania's woman farm adviser. A part of her duty is to talk to and with farmers' wives for their own welfare and interest.

"Any woman on a farm," says Mrs. Foulke, "be it wife, mother, sister or housekeeper, ought to know all the business that is going on around the farm. Two often I find they do not know. My idea is that every woman ought to know how to run her husband's farm. Then, if he dies, and she is left with children, she can bring them up. As it is, generally, she has to sell out and go to some city where nearly everybody in the family almost starves."

HAPPY CONVICTS

A Swiss prison appears to be the very place in which to spend a cheap holiday, as you have practically all you want—a comfortable cell, central heating, electricity, good food, a fair quantity of wine or beer and tobacco, and a library. You can learn a trade, have plenty of exercise, and there is little work to do in return for all these advantages. "Until a year ago, at Thorberg Prison, good conduct prisoners were even allowed out once a week on 'parole,' but, though no prisoners escaped, this custom has been suppressed."

Of all the Swiss prisons perhaps the loveliest is that of Kreuzlingen, in the Canton of Thurgau. The inmates have weekly smoking concerts, when the latest music hall songs can be heard, and good music, with the result that at evenings the tone-deaf—Kreuzlingen has nearly 6,000 inhabitants—gather eagerly around the prison walls and promenade in the street enjoying the free entertainment, especially as some of the convicts have good voices. On these occasions there is no warden to prevent a conversation between the prisoners and their visitors across the wall, and thus the former learn the latest news. It is noticed that the prisoners are very polite when young women are present. Pockets of cigarettes and other small luxuries—not on the regular menu—find their way over the walls, and this custom, though strictly forbidden, is winked at. These pleasant little "soirees musicales" are now threatened with extinction.

It is only fair to the authorities to say that crime is decreasing, as the population increases, in the country.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS SHORT SESSION

The regular monthly meeting of the City Council was held in the Council Chamber on Thursday, August 13th. Mayor Carscallen presided, with Aldermen Smith, Watson, Carswell and Coote present.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Secretary of the Agricultural Society wrote asking for the services of Foreman Morris for repairs on the Fair grounds.

A letter was received from Bandmaster Welton, requesting a payment of $175, less $25 prepaid, the earned portion of the grant promised by the Council for this year. He stated that three of the concerts had been given, and funds were about run out. The letter further thanked the Council for the use of the city hall for practice and said the Band would be willing to pay for cleaning up of the room.

Mayor Carscallen explained to the Council that there had been some misunderstanding about the Band grant. While it had been promised, it had never been placed in the estimates, owing to the fact that the Band had been reported to have disbanded, owing to lack of leading players.

Bandmaster Welton was present in support of his letter, and explained the position of the Band financially. He further pointed out that while at one time it seemed as if they would have to disband, players had come along, and as a matter of fact one practice only had been missed, and not having officially notified the Council of any alteration, they had no idea but what the Council had provided in the usual way for the grant. There was $24.50 owing to the men, and four months' salary, $100, to himself. He was willing to forego $25 of this, and thought if the Council would give the $150, matters could be straightened out all right. He would like to see the Band held together, and was willing to give his services at the same rate as the men if any further concert was given.

Alderman Carswell thought that under existing circumstances it would not be wise to make any further arrangements just now, but to wait a week or so.

Mayor Carscallen said he appreciated Mr. Welton's efforts, but he did not think they should make any definite arrangements to continue the concert at present.

Moved by Alderman Coote and Smith—that we grant the request of Mr. Welton and grant the Band $150. Carried.

The President of the Alberta Ladies' College, Rev. N. D. Keith, wrote asking Council to grant similar concessions in regard to tax in respect to the building, as had been granted in previous years, saying they would be specially grateful this year because of the unusual financial conditions. Laid over until next meeting.

The Secretary of the Town Planning Association, Calgary, acknowledged receipt of city's subscription of $10.00.

Father Voinin, in a letter to the Council, asked them to fix the same rate for the Separate School as had been fixed for the Public School. Filed.

C. G. Mason, Guildford, England, civil engineer, wrote offering services to the Council. Filed.

A letter from the Department of Municipal Affairs, Edmonton, stated that the annual report was in the hands of the printers, and copies would be forwarded later. Filed.

A letter was received from W. J. Raper, manager of the Bank of Montreal, enclosing copy of letter from headquarters calling upon municipalities to restrict expenditures in every way possible. Filed.

A letter from the Provincial Bacteriologist, acknowledging receipt of water for test, was received, and pointed out that the test was not of much value owing to the fact that the water had not been put into a sterilized bottle. Outlets were being prepared for the collecting of water for test purposes. Filed.

The Agricultural Society requested the Council to pay the balance of the grant, amounting to $2,300, or as soon as possible, as the money would be required for the payment of prizes the last day of the Fair. Filed.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

The Commissioners brought in the following report:

We instructed Foreman Morris to repair the sewer outlet. The outlet pipe was extended across the gravel bank to running water and conditions are much improved there.

On July 28th the Court of Appeal against the decisions of the Court of Revision was held by His Honor Judge Lees. All appeals were dismissed.

The part of the nuisance ground section lying west of the wall has been fenced and a substantial gate built. The city has put up about enough hay on this land to last the year.

We submit herewith letter from R. B. Owens, Provincial Sanitary Engineer, re plans for new sewer system that were submitted to him. The tax roll has been entered up, and tax notices will be prepared and mailed as soon as the discount by-law has been passed.

We submit monthly reports for July from Chief of Police, License Inspector, Fire Chief and Health Officer. We are pleased for note from the report of the latter that the city has no contagious or infectious disease.

We submit statement of receipts and disbursements for July.

We submit accounts for your authorization to pay.

We submit for your consideration a by-law to provide for a discount on taxes.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. N. CARSCALLEN,
A. T. STEPHENSON,
Commissioners.

REPORT ADOPTED.

FIRE CHIEF'S REPORT.

Three regular practices were held, with average attendance of 15.7 firemen. No false alarms. One fire, at which twelve firemen attended, the fire being put out with two streams of water from 600 feet of hose. Pressure was ample. Estimated loss was $2,000 on stock and building, covered by insurance.

The inside of the fire hall has received two coats of paint and the apparatus put in first class shape.

During July I had my holidays and Harold Harvey was in charge of the fire hall during my absence for a week.

The fire alarm was tested every week and found in good shape. Total weight scale receipts for July were $28.30.

H. MEERES, Chief.

CHIEF OF POLICE REPORT

17 cases had been brought before the magistrates, 16 cases being provided. Drunk and incapable, 6; breach of peace, 4; carrying concealed weapons, 1. This charge was afterwards withdrawn and revolver confiscated. Vagrancy act, 5 cases. One prosecution in regard to by-law, but we failed to prove the case.

Number of are lamps unlit, 13. Doors unlocked, 11. Impounded 3 head of horses. Nine summons were served. Twenty-one persons were given a bed for the night.

We have installed the finger print system, which we believe to be an advantage to the police work of the city. Monies collected, $42.30.

LICENSE INSPECTOR'S REPORT

All outstanding accounts have been fully collected and handed over to the city treasurer. Money collected during month, $109.50.

C. ANDERSON.

TEN PER CENT. DISCOUNT.

A by-law was passed allowing all ratepayers paying their taxes before October 1st a discount of ten per cent. The question was discussed at some length, Alderman Coote leading off.

The Commissioners were afraid the two thousand dollars provided in the estimates for discount would hardly be enough if ten per cent. was offered, but the general opinion seemed to be that the taxes would be very slow in coming in this year, and a strong inducement should be offered to the ratepayers to pay up promptly.

C.P.R. LEASE.

Moved by Alderman Watson and Carswell—that the Mayor and Sec. Treas. be authorized to sign lease to C.P.R. of part of Kingsmill Ave. and Mann St., and if necessary to have a by-law prepared. Carried.

The Seymour & Dave account, presented some time ago, was again brought up. This account is for services rendered in 1912 and 1913 in connection with the proposed extension of the sewer system.

The firm asked for $900 on account, as this money had been expended by them in connection with the work. They had been requested by the Council to produce a letter from the provincial sanitary engineer on the matter. This letter was now produced, as follows:

Provincial Sanitary Inspector's Office.

I have submitted your plans for sewerage for Red Deer to the Provincial Board of Health, and am requested to state that the plans in every regard are satisfactory, but that the Board cannot grant a certificate for any plan of sewerage unless plans for a sewage disposal works in connection with the proposed sewerage system are also submitted.

In order therefore that the Board may be in a position to issue certificate required under the Public Health Act it will be necessary for you to submit plans for a sewage disposal works large enough to treat sewage from not less than the present population, estimating the quantity at not less than seventy-five gallons per head per day.

E. B. OWENS,
Provincial Sanitary Inspector.

The Council to a man felt that Seymour & Dave, should receive their just due, but that they could hardly see how the matter would eventually work out, and it was decided to go into further details with them before the next meeting.

Moved by Alderman Coote and Carswell—that the Commissioners confer with Seymour & Dave re settlement of account and make a recommendation to the Council on same. Carried.

EARLY CLOSING BY-LAW.

Alderman Coote wanted to know when the matter of the early closing by-law was going to be brought before the Council. It had been in the hands of the city solicitors for weeks, and it was time something was done in the matter, for if it was delayed much longer it would be difficult to do anything at all.

Mayor Carscallen said he was under the impression that it was up to the Retail Merchants Association. The minutes on the question were looked up, and the Mayor finding he had been under a misapprehension, said the Commissioners would look into the matter and instruct the solicitor to prepare the by-law.

The Council adjourned about 10.30 o'clock.

SPORT NOTES

Football, as far as Red Deer, is concerned, is drawing to a close for this season.

Single game that should have been played on Thursday night was postponed. The married men had made all preparations, and had a car fully laid out plan to annihilate their opponents in the first half, believing that it would be a distinct advantage to strike the first blow.

The single men evidently heard of this, and asked for a postponement, the excuse being put forward that some of the players were practising for the Fire Brigade convention, but the real one is that they got scared.

LACOMBE VS. RED DEER.

The deciding tie for the championship of the Alberta Central division, between Red Deer and Lacombe, at Sylvan Lake, on Wednesday last, did not come off. This was a great disappointment to hundreds, particularly to the United team, who were looking in great trim. The Lacombe boys, however, are not blamed for their non-arrival to play the game, because of the fact that six of the team have volunteered for the front and had to present themselves that night for inspection. Red Deer have no intention of claiming the game by default; and while congratulating Lacombe on their patriotic spirit, hope that they will be able to bring the game to a decision before leaving the district.

Those concerned in the football incident between the Firemen and Canadians are generally such decent fellows that the wonder is that they have not got together before this. A little temper does not necessarily make us bad sports.

Red Deer United not only expected to defeat Lacombe at the Lake, but to make enough money by voluntary subscription from our generous citizens to enable them to go to Calgary to play the Calios on August 22nd.

In view of the war in Europe, the New York Yacht Club do not think it advisable to hold the races for the America Cup. It is suggested that if the competition cannot be pulled off in October or November that it be postponed until next year. Sir Thomas Lipton's anticipated joy will have to wait a little longer.

SOLVING A PROBLEM

Rich Young Bachelor Regains
Health and Finds a Wife at Strange Resort.

By WALTER JOSEPH DELANEY.

"Lungs inactive, heart insipid, brain torpid," reported Dr. Philatus Derringer, and he tapped his patient, Thomas Malby, three times and made a mental note of a fifty dollar bill for his advice.

"Humph!" observed the wealthy old bachelor, "generally, my friend," responded the notable physician gravely. "Four late suppers, lack of exercise and indolent ways generally have stored your system with poisons."

"Then get rid of them," suggested Thomas. "I have tried that."

"Nothing but exercise will do that," was the serious response. "I do not wish to alarm you, Mr. Malby, but if you want to shorten your life twenty years just keep on in the idle, useless career you are now living."

Thomas Malby's face shadowed a trifle. No one realized more fully than himself that his life was profitless and wasted. He was the best-natured, best-hearted fellow in the world, but he had money and no definite aim in the world.

A good many times of late his head had grown dizzy and then had been twinges of the gout. Then he had been so he could not go to sleep without the aid of a sedative. Functionally he was still all right, the doctor said, but his little ailments were warnings he must attend to.

"You speak of exercise, doctor," said Thomas. "What do you mean—gold, walking, baths, dieting?"

"Get your help, but you need additional a spur, changed conditions. Get your mind clear as well as your body. See here, did you ever hear of Prof. Septimus Gregg and his great youthful reorganization system?"

"I never did," confessed Thomas. "Well, one month in his hands and you are pretty nearly better again. Then if you go back to your old regime you're past hope. Want to try him?"

"You advise it?"

"All right then," said Thomas. "You will come back with your youth renewed. Then, if you take my advice, get married and home life will do the rest."

Thus it was that two mornings later Thomas Malby was introduced to Prof. Septimus Gregg at the doctor's office. He found the latter to be a great, fierce, bearded old fellow.

"Tommy Malby, eh?" he spoke. "Well, Tommy, if you're ready, toddle along with me. I've a few purchases to make and you can carry the bundles."

Thomas stared. He got ready to resent such familiarity. Then he remembered that the professor was an eccentric, and had exacted a promise that he would obey his directions to the smallest detail.

Thomas stared still more strangely as the professor entered a department store and purchased: (1) a dozen shoofly kites; (2) as many humming tops; (3) a dozen "ags of marbles; (4) a box of bubble gum.

"You must have a lot of children to provide for, professor?" ventured Thomas. "Him you'll soon find out," was the gruff rejoinder.

When they reached a walled-in country place at noon that day, Thomas Malby wondered if he had entered an asylum. A dozen men as old or older than himself greeted their arrival boisterously. Some of them were barefooted. All of them wore knickerbockers. They oared around like boys on a vacation. Eagerly they scrambled for the doctor's purchases.

Then they hoisted and frisked about like mere kids. They played marbles, blew bubbles, spun tops, flew kites.

"Now then, make believe you're a boy again. Forget everything for one month but just that," said the professor, and Thomas was escorted to a room with a trundle bed, and emerged from it wearing a juvenile costume like the others.

Thomas grinned and then laughed outright as he got onto the scene. He was to play boy for a month. He was hailed as "Tom" on the playground. When he got hungry, he went around to the kitchen and was given a great slice of bread and butter. If he ailed him he had really got interested in games of marbles, and ran himself out of breath chasing a runaway kite.

"It's great!" he chuckled, as he soiled onto the trundle bed that night, healthily tired out for the first time in ten years.

Inside of a week Thomas Malby had forgotten the club, late dinners and his automobile. The "boy" went fishing, swimming. They played one old sat, munched, jog, hazy. They got up, big, healthy, appetites. Thomas cherished two smiles, a gasping alley and a "frisky" again with more pride than he had a $1,000 profit on the stock exchange.

"It's fantastic," he told an august comrade, an astronomical student, for the time being a frisky, delighted lad. "No more dizzy spells! I can run like a whitehead and take my boys to the lagoon and those flycatchers take me back 30 years and make life worth living."

On one side of the resort was a high brick wall. Strolling near it one day, Thomas caught a tennis ball flying over his head. There were female inmates of distress. There were female inmates of distress. There were female inmates of distress.

"Do you see the ball, Mattie?" asked a voice below.

"Here, you, boy," called out the request Mattie to the astonished Thomas. "I lost that ball over here, will you?"

Thomas found out that the brick wall enclosed the domain of Mrs. Prof. Gregg, who superintended the "girls' department" of the juvenile reorganization system. He got to thinking constantly of Mattie. One day he climbed a tree to view over the fence half a dozen "girls" attired in tasteful tennis dress with a boy's headgear, skipping rope and playing with dolls.

Thomas hovered many a time outside the walls of that feminine paradise. He got to writing poetry. Once he saw "his Mattie" through a barred gate. He dashed his legs, convulsed in schoolboy. She smiled bewitchingly and waved her pretty, slender hand at him in a girlish, tantalizing way.

"They have regular parties here once a month," a "boy" friend told Thomas next day. "There is music, dancing and a supper."

"Ladies, too?" inquired Thomas hopefully.

"Yes, Mrs. Professor Gregg and her flock. The old lady has a good eye for you. Very formal and dignified."

Thomas never enjoyed himself as he did at the function announced. There were friendly introductions and a pleasant time all around. Despite the conventionalities, however, ruddy cheeks, the glow of health, and a girl's laughter made the affair delightful.

Of course Thomas met Mattie. She was a city stenographer who had taken the cure, to come out bright and vivacious and restored to health. When Thomas returned to the city he sought her out. He called on her twice, but only had to tell her his love to win her complete acceptance of his suit.

Returned from a year's tour of Europe, one day Dr. Philatus Derringer observed the cure. The latter, smiling, brisk and happy, hailed him with a healthy handshake that made the physician wince.

"It is plain to see that you took the juvenile wine," said the doctor.

"Yes, and won a splendid wife and a comfortable home through it all," declared Thomas. "We're just about to a glorious family with 11 children, and we're all just like kids. Going home now to fly kites for them."

"You have certainly solved the great problem of health and happiness," proclaimed the delighted doctor. (Copyright, 1913, by W. G. Chapman.)

TON, MR. FIELDING AND FREE IMPLEMENTS

What Liberal Finance Minister Said in 1907—Anxious to Ensure Manufacture in Canada

In the course of the debate on the reduction of the duty on binders, mowers and reapers from 17 1/2 per cent to 12 1/2 per cent, the Minister of Finance called attention to the statement made by his predecessor, the Hon. W. S. Fielding in 1907, when he introduced to put implements on the free list.

Mr. Fielding said at that time— "My belief is that if this motion were passed we would strike a severe blow at one of the great industries of the country. I believe the International Harvester Company would find it to its interest to close up its business in Hamilton, at least so much of it as is devoted to mowers and binders and have them made at the American branch and bring them from the United States. The factory in Hamilton is an American concern. With a moderate duty we have induced American capital to come into Canada and to establish that great industry, and after we have brought it in and established it in Canada, I believe that if we were to pass this resolution the company operating that industry would find it profitable to close the Hamilton factory and bring in the goods which they make in the United States."

The freight rate from Chicago and vicinity, in which a great portion of the implements made in the United States for use in the territory adjacent to Minneapolis are made, averages 20 cents per hundred in export load lots from Chicago to Minneapolis. In comparing the price of implements for cash or time in Winnipeg or points adjacent thereto, it should be borne in mind that the freight rate for hundred pounds in 64 cents from Brandon, Hamilton and Toronto to Grantford lots to Winnipeg. When the price of implements in the Western States, such as Montana, is compared with the price of implements in the West Point in Canada, that is where the freight rates are equal, it is seen from the figures submitted by the Minister of Finance that the price is approximately the same in Canada as in the United States.

GAMBLER TO A MILLIONAIRE

Wonderful Rise of a Nevada Man Who Broke "The Bank" With Senator's Money.

From a gambler to a millionaire mining man, politician, probable president of four banks, and on record as having refused a United States senatorship is the brief history of George Wingfield, according to the New York Tribune.

The story which was current in the early days of the Tonopah and Goldfield district was that Wingfield in the pioneer period of the Tonopah camp came out of a gambling house one evening and stood with a dejected look on his face, when the late Senator Nixon came along. The senator greeted George, as he was popularly known, and asked how his luck was. Wingfield replied that he was broke. Nixon handed him some gold and said:

"Try again, George," and passed on. That money turned the trend of fortune and Wingfield broke the bank and became owner of the gambling house.

From that time on his success seemed to be assured. He secured from the prospectors various mining claims, including large interests in the leading mines of the Goldfield district, and as evidence of his appreciation for the help of Nixon he gave the late senator an interest in all his holdings.

After the senator's death Wingfield was offered the Nevada senatorial seat, but he refused it. It is stated, however, that he will be the next president of the banks which Senator Nixon headed, Winnemucca, Carson, Reno and Tonopah.

Etched Pewter. Very beautiful are some new pieces of pewter that come from the Orient, says the Ladies' Home Journal. The tea caddies are perhaps best of all, for they are absolutely air tight, an important thing in caddies if tea is to be kept fresh. These caddies have an outside cover, and an inside stopper of pewter which fits tightly. They are in sizes costing from $1 to $15. The pewter is subjected to a process which leaves it a dull brownish silver; the designs—each distinctly Japanese—are then etched with acid. Litter catches—excellent for ash trays—designed in a dwarf pine are $1 each. A beautiful odd shaped bowl with a wicker handle is $6. All of the pieces are very heavy.

Fattened by Cannibals. Guy de Villepion, a former teacher at San Francisco Academy, returning from the west coast of South America, told a tale of having been fattened for a feast by cannibals while attempting to cross from Ciudad to Buenos Aires. He escaped after many adventures and found his way to Callao.

"They were a strange people," he said, "and appeared to be half man and half ape. I have no doubt that they meant to eat me. I was mystified by their kindness until I saw that it was all directed to the one end of getting me fat. Then I thought I had better leave, and I did."

Do Villepion was a newspaper correspondent during the Russian-Japanese war.

Wilson Plays Santa. When Charlie Conroy of East Orange, N. J., 8 years old, got up on Christmas morning he found that the letter he sent to "Santa Claus, State House, Trenton," had been answered by Governor Wilson. Charlie asked for a new coat, a pair of gloves, a necktie, a cap, two books, a train of cars, a box of blocks and some candy and fruit.

President-elect Wilson was so impressed that he had one of his stenographers send Charlie all the things he asked for.

Five Hundred Cuss Words. For every swear word spoken this year by members of the clerical force in an automobile tire factory at Milltown, N. J., a fine of one cent has been dropped in the "cuss box" for the Salvation Army. The box, opened recently, contained $4.98. Somebody then said "damn" twice to make the sum an even five dollars. There are 100 clerks.

CHARGED WITH CATTLE STEALING

J. and H. Jacobson, of Brooksley, were charged before Judge Taylor, of Edmonton, sitting in chambers at Red Deer, with stealing a heifer belonging to Frank Owens. The defendants, who were ably defended by Solicitor Newell of Edmonton, pleaded that they found the heifer with a broken leg, and that they thought the heifer belonged to their father. The animal had been sold to G. W. Ball, of Red Deer, by the defendants. The Judge dismissed the case. A. H. Russell prosecuted.

Thieves at Work

Thieves made an attempt to enter the premises of H. H. Humber on Monday night. Everything was all right on the store being locked up, but on Tuesday morning the large plate glass window was found to have been nearly cut through with a diamond. The thieves had evidently intended making a good haul, for the piece of glass they were trying to cut out measured about eighteen inches by two feet, and was directly in line with a fine assortment of gold and silver articles of jewelry. They must have been disturbed by the police or some passerby. The Fair attracts people of all classes, and at the present time there are bound to be a number of undesirable who live by praying on an unsuspecting public. The police should be strengthened by swearing in of special men, at least a dozen, so that the public can get protection. The citizens, too, should do their part and take every precaution possible at a time like this to protect their property.

Gun Club High Scores

The Red Deer Gun Club concluded the shoots for the Stephens Arms Co. and Dupont Powder Co. trophies a few days ago. There were 200 birds in each shoot, covering 8 nights, when 25 birds were shot at in each trophy. Dr. Flaxton won the trophy with a score of 190 birds killed out of the possible 200 in the Dupont and 189 in the Stephens. His boy came second with 187 in the Dupont and 182 in the Stephens. Fred Lund made a close third with 186 in the Dupont and 182 in the Stephens. Flaxton's shooting was really a wonderful showing, and was better than most of the crack clubs of the Dominion and very close to a record in these competitions.

Three Year Sentence

The Police, under the direction of Chief Anderson, raided a house near the old Great West hotel, property on Monday, August 10th. As a result Koe Smith, colored woman, was fined $25.00 for keeping a disorderly house, and Orie Gies was remanded on the more serious charge of procuring. He was brought up again and committed by Magistrate Wallace. The prisoner elected to have a speedy trial, and was brought before Judge Lees on Monday and was found guilty and sentenced to three years. Chief Anderson took the finger prints of the man and sent them to Ottawa, and has since received a wire stating that the man had been twice previously convicted but not for that offence.
